Dear Mary,

Please, do, keep me posted on that bugging. However, the xx thing I'd suspect you do not indicate. This operation costs money, lots of it, which indicates it is for one who is loaded.

Three of the victims are former employees.

Is not the employer, then, possibly a man of paramount interest. Like are his people giving his secrets away?

I have not written Paul about this (yet?).

I look forward to Penn's book with mixed feelings. I believe he is a man of principle, as he sees it, but who has been (should I say "become"?) irrational, does things he once would never have dreamed of doing, and is and has been very, very wrong, needlessly hurting people who so many have been needlessly hurt.

I hear Grosset & Dunlop are about to bring out Judy Bonner's "The Assassination of President John F. Kennedy".

If you have expressed interest in having copies of the two parts of POST MORTEM, I do not recall it. Paul has both. I regret, among many regrets, - have to ask the same reservations, even more here because the breach of trust endangers what may be the most important thing yet, the beginning of the success of almost five years of work. If you do not want copies but want to read, I can probably lend copies.

Thanks for everything.

Best regards,
